

Bard

Bard College is a private liberal arts college in Annandale-on-Hudson, a hamlet in New York, United States. The campus overlooks the Hudson River and Catskill Mountains, and is within the Hudson River Historic District, a National Historic Landmark.

True to the principles of liberal arts education, Bard College Berlin offers interdisciplinary programs in the humanities and social sciences, with a strong focus on individual growth and the development of essential skills in writing and thinking. Students engage in an integrated inquiry into the intellectual and cultural history of the contemporary world before choosing to specialize in an area of the humanities or social sciences (economics, politics, art or literature). Study in the core program and the student's chosen field of specialization is supplemented by a wide variety of elective courses in fields such as theater, film, philosophy and studio arts, and by many forms of engagement with the city of Berlin, including museum visits, special courses, and internships. Qualifying students earn both an American B.A. and a German B.A.

Interview with Bonnie Marcus, Senior Associate Director of Admission at Bard College Annandale and Theodore O'Neil, Senior Admissions Advisor at Bard College Berlin.

Why Bard?

Virtual Bard College Campus Tour

Students and their parents can also schedule a virtual “Let's Meet” session with an admission counselor.

We are happy to say that we have one Bard Alumnus on the ACS Athens faculty.