

Below please find detailed instructions on your IA summer assignment. Please note that all that is described below is individual work!

Online Textbook:

Please read the following chapter carefully:

- Internal Assessment - A. Getting started

1. Make sure that you have access to the original study that your group will be replicating (if uncertain email me). Read the original study carefully so that you gain a clear understanding of the theory proposed, the procedure/ methodology followed, and the findings reported.
2. Make your own (individual) proposal on how this study can be replicated. Follow the example of your course book as a sample proposal.

Proceed to read the following chapter carefully:

- Internal Assessment - B. Writing the introduction

1. Take note of the sample introduction presented in this unit as well as the rubric used for assessing IA introductions.
2. Start drafting your own introduction taking into consideration that it should not exceed 700 words.
3. Take special care in clearly outlining the relevant theory and describing the original study in detail.
4. Present all relevant definitions/information by providing appropriate in-text citation (APA) and references at the end.
5. Submit through Turnitin (I will be sending out a link to the specific Turnitin assignment)

By September 1st 2018 you need to have completed the following tasks:

- Have shared your proposal on how your group can replicate the original study on a Google document
- Have shared your IA Introduction on the same Google document
- Have submitted your Introduction through Turnitin
